Love, Loyalty and the Language of Leaders

This is the session for anyone who has recently considered trading in their credentials for a one-way ticket to a tropical paradise and without a forwarding address. Do not even bother searching your organization's Policy Manual for solutions to the nearly 26 months of unending mayhem of global proportions. Our titles and professional accomplishment have proven to be anemic tools against variants and the "Great Resignation!" Never before have mastering your words, emotions, and mindset meant so much, to so many. Our residents and colleagues are starving for greater connection, expressed compassion, and confident optimism. The alarming speed of change and poor outcomes require new tools and strategies to reverse isolation, uncertainty, and combat fatigue. Have your leadership chops "leveled-up" to match the chaotic energy and dread brought by this long season of turmoil?

Interactivity and expert skill-building prepare you to influence the conversations around you toward hope and harmony over fear and frustration. You will become even more competent at minimizing the internal doubt and anxiety that influences your impact during times of intense change and challenge. You will also benefit from tools that teach how to give and receive feedback with grace, openness, and appreciation. This unique experience is the Train-the-Trainer you need to become your organization's lightning rod for sustained optimism and inspired action.
