

Jona Ness

October 15, 2013

Leadership Academy Project Summary Worksheet

Time seems to be too short on my behalf especially now that the final days of the leadership training is near to an end as we approach graduation this October. I am so pleased with the training that I had gained especially having the opportunity to be able to meet and learn leadership from different leaders throughout the year I participated in this program.

I am aware of the project that was part of the curriculum but it was a great challenge for me to fulfill the requirement right off the bat because there were several factors that had contributed to the delay of my project. I was trying to balance everything out as I had gained a new position at work but I was unsuccessful due to some barriers that had interfered with my purpose of meeting my expectation. The good thing is that I will continue to feel challenged, and to ensure that the project I had started will be implemented. I am going to pursue what I had started and I am thankful that I have great support at work. I will keep the academy posted of the outcome of my project, but for the meantime, I will enjoy the last days that I have with the academy during our Agate Beach Conference.

I plan to continue my involvement with Leading Age and continue networking because I know how beneficial it is for me to have this exposure. I am so thankful for the opportunity given to me by my employer to have such a great experience.